'Our Town'

J. B. WHITE

The other day a mother of two sons came to our office. One son now past 35 is going back to combat after 26 months in the hell holes of the Pacific. The other son just past 20 is being discharged from the army. He wants to come back to the farm. Now, all this may be regular and if we knew the circumstances it might not be as absurd as it looks on the face of it. Often in these days when casualty lists are coming in and the telegraph company delivers a message that says he'll never come back, it may serve to wake up your dormant sense of outrage to read the following:

Selective Service officials were at their wit's end last week. The problem that vexed them: how to deal with a group of drafted-age Americans who have refused to fight, who now decline to work, and spend most of their waking hours finding new and more ostentatious ways of thumbing their noses at all authority.

Most of the young men in Selective Service's problem are conscientious objectors who were plucked from other camps as troublemakers and sent to Camp Germfask, Mich. Officials had hoped that at Germfask, an old CCC camp on the 95,000-acre Seney Wild Life Refuge in northern Michigan, the troublemakers might mend their ways. But there has been little reformation.

Some 30 of the conchie (half the camp population) worked hard at a campaign of studied defiance of camp officials. They were mostly college graduates who maintained that the work assigned to them—building dikes and roads, felling trees—was not of "national importance." Therefore, argued the men who had refused to fight, or help fighting men to fight, they were illegally detained under the National Service Act.

Camp Director Norman V. Nelson, who described them as "intellectuals," said sadly that there was nothing he could do. Revolted gloried in their nom de guerre: the "Tobacco Road Gang." They feigned sickness, passively resisted all orders. Told to cut down a tree, a Tobacco Roader would ask, "How do I do it?" Told to take hold of the ax, he would ask, "What do I do next?" Told to swing the ax, he would swing, cut out a small chip, inquire, "Now what do I do?"

With money supplied by relatives they bought liquor, which they smuggled into their quarters. Frequently they went AWOL and roamed the nearby towns making ardent and often successful love to local girls. Two towns had barred them. Citizens of another town had one waylaid and thrashed a group of them.

But the Tobacco Road Gang was not discouraged. They threatened camp officials with violence. To underline their defiance they overturned mess-hall tables loaded with food, invaded the storeroom and ripped open bags of flour, smashed eggs and jars of mess supplies and dumped beans, rice, coffee onto the floor. Once they broke into the camp store and destroyed food and soft drinks. Camp Manager Karl Walz reported: "They said they were seeking an outlet for their frustration."

A few have been brought to trial for desertion, but most were "guard-house lawyers" who knew the limit of the loosely drawn Selective Service Act and stayed carefully within it. C.O.s are not subject to military discipline; in the eyes of the law, they are civilians. The Government has no authority to use force, can prosecute C.O.s only through the Federal courts.

To see what he could do about the situation, Lt. Col. Simon P. Dunkle of Selective Service headquarters went to Germfask. He admitted there was little that could be done, without a new law. At week's end, while a few better-behaved C.O.s tried to do all the camp chores, the Tobacco Road Gang lolled in their bunks.

FEBRUARY IN HISTORY

MRS. EMMA H. DYE BURIED IN ARKANSAS

Mrs. Emma Dye, former resident here, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Pauline T. Stanton in Helena, Arkansas, on February 10, 1945.

News of the death of Mrs. Dye was received here in a letter to Mrs. Hallie Jones Wofford.

Mrs. Dye was the former Miss Emma Hattie Homan and was born and reared in Cameron, the daughter of the late Mrs. Dr. Lott, who was a sister of the late John M. Hefley, W. T. Hefley, J. D. Hefley and L. J. Hefley. Mrs. Dye was a cousin of H. M. Hefley, President of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Dye had been in failing health for many years and was living in the home of her daughter.

H. M. AKERS BUYS MORE BUSINESS PROPERTY

H. M. Akers has purchased additional business property, the building now occupied by the City Cafe on West First Street, adjoining the building recently purchased by John Muse.

Mr. Akers, last week closed a deal for the Cameron Hotel property, buying the property from Mrs. Reed of Bryan.

The building occupied by the City Cafe also was property owned by Mrs. Reed.

Mr. Akers plans to do extensive improvements in this building which is 30x120 and will make of it an attractive building. The present occupants of the building have a lease until mid-summer. At that time Mr. Akers will recondition the building.

SGT. ARMOND H. POUNDS

M-Sgt. Armond H. Pounds volunteered for service in the Air Corps as a ground mechanic, August 10, 1941. He was sent to Cochran Field in Georgia, where he was stationed for two years. For further training Sgt. Pounds was stationed in Arkansas and South Carolina.

M-Sgt. Pounds sailed for overseas duty in October, 1943, and since being across has earned two ratings. He was born and reared in Milam county and served two years with the C. C. C. making high ratings.

M-Sgt. Pounds is 25 years of age and is the son of Mrs. Myrtle Pounds, formerly of Milano, but now resident of Cameron.

THREE INDICTED HERE ON FELONY CHARGE

Three felony indictments have been returned by the Grand Jury here. The jury in a one day session examined five witnesses and returned the bills.

Edgar Jordan and Joe Taylor of Conoley were indicted for felony theft. They took $500 in currency from a wagon on which a farmer was moving household goods to a nearby farm. The young men were arrested in Angleton by the Chief of Police on information furnished by Sheriff Carl C. Black. They had taken the money and bought two motorcycles in Houston.

Floyd Noack was indicted for failure to stop and render aid when his car ran down and killed an aged man near Thorndale.

The Grand Jury inspected the jail and in its report commends Sheriff Carl Black for improvements made in the jail building.

Mrs. Ike Ledbetter of near Cameron is confined to her bed with illness but is reported to be improving some. Mrs. Ledbetter formerly lived in Cameron several years ago, and has many friends here who wish for her a speedy recovery.

FOOD LOCKER PLANT IN CAMERON OPENED

The Frozen Food Locker plant of the Cameron Ice & Cold Storage Company, is now open for business and rentals are being taken on lockers in the storage vaults.

Hayden Lawrence, owner of the plant, has been able to install all equipment necessary for the operation of the plant and more than 400 lockers are available. A great number have been taken and many who plan to rent these lockers may now go to the plant and get their keys. Locker plant subscribers were giving a brisk business to the plant as meats and other foods were being brought in for processing and storage. Local slaughtering facilities are available to those who wish to store meats.

Mr. Lawrence said that the plant is now in complete operation and lockers are available. This announcement will be received with enthusiasm among farmers in the rural sections.

LT. S. E. MALONE IS PRISONER OF GERMANS

Lt. S. E. Malone, U. S. Army Air Corps, is a prisoner of the Germans. A card message to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Malone of Houston, has just been received.

Lt. Malone was shot down over Cologne in Germany on October 20, 1944, and captured. The parents were notified on November 4, 1944, that their son was a prisoner of war.

Mrs. Malone, mother of the flyer, was in Cameron Monday. While here she disclosed that she had just received a card dated December 17, 1944 from her son.

It reads as follows: "Dear Mother and Dad: A few lines to say hello. I think of you as Christmas approaches. It has been a long time since I spent one with you. I am looking forward to the next one though. Wish everyone a Merry Christmas for me and Frank Newton."

For the first time it is known that Lt. Malone and Lt. Frank Newton are in the same prison camp. Lt. Newton was a pilot of a B-24 Liberator and was shot down in the Mediterranean where he was captured by the Germans and taken to Germany.

Sgt. R. J. Short is Home on Furlough; is With the U. S. Marines

Sgt. R. J. Short, United States Marines, is home for a few days visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Short of Marlow.

Sgt. Short is attached to the Marine Artillery and has completed more than two years of service and training and feels he is ready for the battle fronts.

He will return to his base at Camp LaJuna in North Carolina late this week. Sgt. Short enlisted in January 1943, and spent a year and a half in New Jersey, first going to boot camp in South Carolina. He has seen active duty in a number of assignments in this country but welcomes the prospect of going overseas.

Awarded Air Medal

SGT. ALECK LAZEK

AIR MEDAL IS AWARDED TO SGT. ALECK LAZEK

Ceremonies were held at Bryan Air Field Tuesday, February 27 at which time an Air Medal was presented to Fred Lazek, Sr., which had been awarded by the President of the United States to his son, Sgt. Aleck Lazek, now held in a German Prison Camp.

Going over to receive the Air Medal besides the father of Sgt. Lazek were his two sisters, Mrs. Edna Sustek and Mrs. Mollie Mae Stewart and her husband Sgt. Stewart of the Army who is visiting here.

The Medal is an Air Corps award and is usually given after the completion of 10 combat missions. Sgt. Lazek was a gunner on a Flying Fortress and was shot down over Germany. Weeks later his parents here were notified by the Government that their son was safe but held a prisoner by the Germans.

The Air Medal, one of few seen here, is in possession of Fred Lazek. Maj. J. C. Carroll at the Bryan Air Field, arranged the ceremonies which lasted over an hour with a number of talks, praising Sgt. Lazek for his heroism. There was band music also.

In the citation of award is the following:

"For exceptionally meritorious achievement, while participating in several bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Continental Europe. The courage, coolness, and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

LT. WALTER L. BALDWIN IS KILLED IN ACTION

Second Lt. Walter L. Baldwin, 20, was killed in action January 20, 1945, in Yugoslavia. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baldwin of Austin have been notified by the War Department.

Lt. Baldwin who reached his 20th birth date on the day of his death was a navigator on a Liberator bomber based in Italy. He had been overseas since October, 1944.

A former student at Austin High School, he enlisted in the Army one week before his graduation in May, 1943, and received his navigators wings and commission at San Marcos navigation school in June, 1944.

He is survived by four brothers and two sisters, Lt. J. W. Baldwin in England, Jesse Baldwin, Jimmie Baldwin and Bobby Baldwin, Mrs. Will Spring-ton and Ruth Baldwin all of Austin. He also is survived by a cousin, Miss Kathryn Beaty of Austin, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Beaty of Cameron. His grand father, W. H. Day of Cameron also survives.

W. H. TRIGGS, PIONEER DIED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

W. H. Triggs, 89, pioneer cotton merchant and business man, died at 11:45 p. m. at his home in Cameron. He had been critically ill for three weeks from a heart ailment.

Mr. Triggs was born in Plymouth, England, near Kingston on April 9, 1856. He came to the United States in 1874. He settled at Rockdale and later moved to Round Rock in Williamson county and in his long business career he had engaged in the mercantile business and wholesale grocery. In 1899, he moved to Cameron with his family and engaged in business. His interests were in the mercantile field, investment and farming. He had been a cotton merchant for more than a quarter century and at the time of his death was so engaged, maintaining offices in the city and devoted his time to the business in which he was a widely known factor.

In 1935, Mr. Triggs retired from active operation of the cotton firm of W. H. Triggs & Sons, leaving the details to his sons, W. O. Triggs, A. J. Triggs and C. E. Triggs. Although he had not been as active as theretofore for 10 years, he continued an active interest in the business.

Mr. Triggs had accumulated considerable farm lands and business property in Cameron and Milam county.

Mr. Triggs was married to Miss Elizabeth Albright of Georgetown on February 28, 1881. He died on his wedding anniversary. Mrs. Triggs who died in Cameron, October 12, 1928, at the family residence, was the daughter of a pioneer Professor of German language in Southwestern University in Georgetown.

After their marriage they made their home in Round Rock where their family of children were born. The Triggs home in Cameron is an imposing two story mansion type on East 23rd Street across from the Campus of Yoe High School. Here Mr. Triggs had made his home since (turn to page three)

PVT. W. G. LOPEZ AWARDED BRONZE STAR

Pvt. Walker G. Lopez of Gause has been awarded the Bronze Star for heroic action in Italy. Mrs. Rosa G. Lopez of Gause, mother of Pvt. Lopez has received the medal and the following letter:

I have the honor to inform you that, by direction of the President the Bronze Star Medal has been awarded your son, Private Walker G. Lopez, Infantry. The Citation is as follows:

"For heroic service in action. On 12 May, 1944, during the attack on * * *, Italy, the * * * platoon of Company * * *, Infantry was attacking on the left of the battalion sector. When the attack had advanced a short distance the platoon was pinned to the ground by two enemy machine guns and a few snipers causing several casualties in the platoon. In the ensuing fire fight one of the Browning Automatic Rifle gunners was wounded seriously so that he could not operate his weapon. When Private Lopez noticed that the Browning Automatic Rifle was out of action, though he was not a member of the Browning Automatic Rifle team, he crawled forward about twenty yards, without regard for his own safety, in full view of the enemy and put the Browning Automatic Rifle back into action. The position which he occupied was exposed but was a good firing position so he remained there and fired so effectively that both of the enemy machine guns were silenced. This permitted the remainder of the platoon to maneuver into covered positions from which the attack was resumed. Only then did Private Lopez seek cover for himself. Private Lopez' heroic action undoubtedly saved the lives of many of his comrades and is in keeping with the finest traditions of the service."

Since this award cannot be formally presented to your son at this time, the decoration will be presented to you. The Bronze Star Medal will be forwarded to the Commanding General, Eighth Service Command, Dallas, who will select an officer to make the presentation. The officer selected will communicate with you concerning your wishes in the matter.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT H. DUNLOP,
Brigadier General Acting the Adjutant General.

CPL. WILLIAM BALHORN CITED BY GENERAL

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England—Cpl. Wm. C. Balhorn, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Balhorn, 1208 West Main Street, Cameron, is a member of an 8th Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress squadron which has been cited by the commanding general of its combat wing for maintenance and operational excellence. The unit's bombers had the lowest number of mechanical failures resulting in turnbacks short of the targets of any squadron in the combat wing during a recent month.

Cpl. Balhorn is the squadron mail clerk. The unit, commanded by Lt. Col. Thomas F. Kenny, Jr., 24, Youngstown, Ohio, is in the 385th Bombardment Group under the command of Col. George Y. Jumper, Natoma, Calif. The group is a part of the Third Air Division.

The squadron also had the lowest number of turnbacks for its group during the past year of the heavy bombardment offensive against German military objectives.

After announcing the citation at a squadron meeting Lt. Col. Kenny said, "Although the greater part of the credit for getting our Forts over the targets belongs to the mechanics, other technicians, and to the flying personnel, all other members of the unit contribute to the maintenance and operational efficiency of the organization. I wish to express my appreciation for the loyalty, interest, and teamwork of each man in making our superior record possible."

The bombers of the squadron have dropped thousands of tons of bombs upon such German targets as war factories, airfields, oil refineries, railroad yards, and military defense points. It took a vital part in the aerial offensive against German strong points and communication lines during the invasion and the drive across France and Belgium to the German border.

Prior to entering the Army Air Force in December, 1943, Cpl. Balhorn was assistant manager of the J. C. Penney Company store in Cameron. He attended army clerical school at Fort Logan, Denver, Colorado.

His brother, Private First Class Harold R. Balhorn, is now in France.

To All Cordwood Dealers in Milam Co.

At a meeting of the Price Panel of the Milam County War Price & Ration Board on Tuesday night, Feb. 20, the ceiling price on cordwood was amended as follows:

Dealers are now allowed 10c per mile per cord for delivering outside city limits. This amount may be added to the ceiling $9 per cord. The 10c per mile was arrived at by going by the average dealer's practice in 1942, the Board announced.

3RD ARMY EXPANDING BATTLE LINE ON RHINE

Paced by what is said in a London bulletin at noon Thursday as the largest attack by air ever made in warfare, the Third United States Army under General Patton, was fast expanding the battle lines on the Western front in Germany, operating across the border from Luxembourg.

The 3rd Army had captured more than 30 additional German towns and was within 5 miles of Trier, key center of the Siegfried line. Up to noon Thursday General Patton had taken 60 German towns and villages.

The Germans predicted an all out offensive on the Western front while in desperation they had stunted the Red advance before Berlin. The Reds were giving ground in East Prussia.

The battle of Iwo Jima in the North Pacific was becoming an epic struggle. The Marines of the United States were temporarily halted. In all there are 45 thousand Marines on the Island where some 20 thousand Japs are entrenched in what is said to be the best fortified base in the Pacific.

Heavy casualties have been reported by American headquarters of Admiral Nimitz who has moved his headquarters to Guam.

WEEK END SEES AXIS FAST LOSING WAR

As the week end closed Allied armies all over the world were rolling the Axis back and the plight of the Germans seemed to worsen by the hour.

Hitler's 25th Anniversary as Chancellor of the Reich was observed in Germany with a proclamation in which he said that the Germans are an unshakable nation of people.

There was disorder and hunger in Berlin now already overcrowded with 5 million people. The First, Ninth and Third Armies have made new and important gains on the Western front and our forces are now 19 miles from Cologne. General Patton's Third army has taken 14 more towns and 5200 prisoners.

New Allied air blows were being struck at Germany and Berlin was being hit hard by the RAF. According to Airmen the railways in Germany were almost at a standstill.

Sgt. Jerome Dusek is Married in England to Miss Iris Hedges

A wedding of much interest to friends in and near Cameron was that of Miss Iris Hedges of Waford, Herts. ferdshire, England, and Sgt. Jerome J. Dusek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Dusek of Cameron.

They were married November 4, 1944, at St. Michael's Church of England. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white velvet with headdress of veiling and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink tea roses and French fern. She was attended by Miss Jean Cave who wore a blue satin gown, and carried a bouquet of pink cysanthemums and fern.

The groom was attended as best man by S-Sgt. George Socorelis of Massachusetts.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the brides home for thirty guests. A brother of the groom, Cpl. Milton L. Dusek was present.

Immediately following the reception the young couple left for their honeymoon. They visited in Lorguay, Devon and spent one night in London.

Sgt. Dusek, who has been stationed in England for more than a year is Supply Sargeant to the Combat Support Wing, of the 8th A. A. F. He is a graduate of Yoe High School.

His bride has been a nurse for three years in Military and Civilian Emergency Hospitals in England.

Junior Red Cross To Collect Cut Flowers for McCloskey

Mrs. F. C. Fahrendorf and Miss Ada Margaret Smith have announced that the Junior Red Cross members will aid the Camp and Hospital Council in collecting cut flowers for McCloskey General Hospital each Friday. The Junior Red Cross Council accepted the work as a Spring project.

They ask that the people please understand that these flowers are for McCloskey and to feel free to call the Juniors to come by for your flowers. Mrs. Fahrendorf will deliver the flowers to the Hospital on Saturdays. The Juniors are anxious to do their best so that they may be able to serve the Senior Red Cross in other projects.

the death of Mrs. Triggs with his daughter, Mrs. Howard Baskin who devoted her time to his care and comforts in his declining years.

Mr. Triggs was a member of the Church of England while he resided in the British Isles but united with the Methodist church when he came to America and had served as a member of the Board of Stewards for 60 years in the various Methodist churches in which he held membership and had been a member of the Board of the Cameron church for almost a half century. He was a prime spirit in the progress of the church and lent his support to the institutions of Methodism in Texas.

Surviving are four sons, R. A. Triggs of Houston; W. O. Triggs of Cameron; A. J. Triggs of Dallas and C. E. Triggs of Cameron; Mrs. Howard Baskin of Cameron, the only daughter of the family; and one foster daughter, Mrs. Dan Hanna of Houston survive. One brother, Ernest Triggs of Kingston, England. Eight grandchildren, five great grandchildren survive.

Active pallbearers are his grandsons, R. A. Triggs, Jr., George William Triggs, Montague Triggs, Billie Triggs, A. J. Triggs, William Howard Baskin, Macon Banner and Dan Hanna.

Honorary pallbearers are to be chosen from close friends of the family.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday, March 2, 1945 at First Methodist Church with Rev. K. R. Isbell, pastor, conducting the services. The body will lie in state at the family residence at 303 East 23rd street until the funeral hour. Interment will be made in Oak Hill Cemetery with the Green Funeral Home directing arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS

In our great misfortune to lose our dear baby boy, Leslie, our friends and neighbors, were so kind and considerate, we feel deeply and will always deem ourselves obligated to the many who came. Your words of sympathy and encouragement at a time when grief and sorrow brought darkness into our hearts and lives, helped us to bear this burden. We want each one to know how very grateful we are and will treasure always the things you did for us. May God bless each one for their share in helping us. We are thankful for the beautiful floral offerings and for every thing and for every word spoken to encourage us to go on.

Lucille Cook, Co. H. D. Agent Urges Food Preservation

The average family needs to arrange now for the source of its food, such as a Victory garden or a poultry flock. The average family eats half of its food fresh and half preserved. About 125 containers, or 300 pounds of food, should be stored for each person in the family, and these figures should be taken into account in the family planning.

Miss Cook urges homemakers to include plenty of canned or frozen meat, fruit, and vegetables in the diet, rather than putting up a preponderance of pickles, relishes, preserves and jellies. Last year's reports showed most families are planning more balanced food preservation budgets than before the war, and this is most encouraging.

On the whole, the outlook for equipment and supplies in the preservation field is fairly promising. There will be less sugar than last year, but enough to get by on. Tin cans and glass jars are expected to be plentiful and the jar closures available now are superior to those manufactured earlier in the war. Pressure cookers will continue to be scarce, and practically no new sealers will be offered to the public. Miss Cook says this means more people will have to can together, share equipment, or take advantage of community food preservation centers.

Pvt. W. B. Ingram in Ireland, an Ambulance Driver in Air Corps

AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND DEPOT IN IRELAND—It formerly was W. B. Ingram, farmer. It now is Pvt. W. B. Ingram, ambulance driver.

In his duty with the medical detachment at this storage and experimental station of the Air Service Command, Pvt. Ingram, son of Mrs. Minnie Ingram, Rt. 4, Cameron, is required to be "on call" most hours of the day and to be proficient in first aid measures.

A member of the armed forces since August 22, 1942, he has been on duty in the British Isles more than a year and a half. In civilian life, he was engaged in farming.

His wife, Mrs. Flossie Ingram, lives in Welch, Texas.

Bredt Feed & Produce Co. Making Big Line Of Profitable Feeds

Bred Feed & Produce Company, Cameron and Rockdale comes to the readers of The Herald this week with a line of feeds for the livestock and poultry producers of this territory.

The company has worked out a policy whereby the feeders will get a wide selection of feeds and at economy prices. Their mill and warehouse in Cameron have become widely patronized utilities.

In a recent advertisement appearing in The Daily Herald the publishers made an error in the signature of the ad. It read Bredt & Haley Produce Company. This was an error and should have been Bredt Feed & Produce Company.

The Haley Produce Company is located in Rockdale and has no connection with the Bredt Feed enterprises here.

Rent Ceiling May Be Clamped On Milam If Rules Not Observed

Information has come to The Herald from official sources that abuses are being practiced by land lords in Milam county and unless rents are kept within their present limits the county may go under strictures with a rent ceiling.

It is known that many complaints have been filed and these complaints have been brought to the attention of the government. Action was regarded as certain.

In one case which came to light Thursday a woman whose husband is fighting in Germany with the American army has been paying $30 per month for a less than modest home and has been called upon to pay $40 or be thrown out with her child. A sense of outrage was expressed over such tactics.

It is regarded both as a matter of patriotic sentiment as well as just dealing that the wives of these heroes now fighting should not be subjected to such treatment. They have not the means to pay extortion prices for rentals.

So numerous have been complaints that ceiling action is certain. When rent ceilings are imposed property owners will not get the prices they are now charging. They had better think twice before raising anybody's rent.

Hoyte 4-H Club Meets Yarrellton 4-H Club

The Hoyte 4-H Club met in the Hoyte school lunch room, Feb. 23. Miss Cook, County H. D. Agent, gave the club members information on planting a spring garden.

She told the members the best time for planting various vegetables in the spring garden. A list of the best varieties of vegetables for this section of Texas was given. The club members studied labels on various packages of seeds. Knowing what to look for on labels will enable the girls to be more intelligent consumers.

Doris Nell Jungmann, Reporter and Mrs. Clarence Colburn the sponsor met with the Yarrellton 4-H club on Feb. 23. She gave a demonstration on keeping hands and hair clean.

4 Military Cops Are Monarchs for Day at Old Town

Brief Policeman's Heaven Enjoyed at Ancient Mont St. Michel.

MONT ST. MICHEL, FRANCE.—Once upon a time there were four military cops who spent one day in paradise. There were no dusty roads to police, no stragglers to round up, no speeders, no doughboys to bawl out for forgetting to wear leggings or helmets and no truck drivers to yell at for tying up traffic as they asked their way to some unpronounceable French town nobody ever heard of.

For in this 24-hour M. P.'s Shangri La there was only one narrow cobblestoned street and no military vehicles of any kind moving along it. This brief policeman's heaven was Mont St. Michel, one of the world's foremost tourist centers in peacetime and in war one of those pleasant little islands of peace amid raging battles.

The four M. P.s didn't know what they were getting into when their boss, Lieut. Col. Mack H. Hornbeak of Baton Rouge, La., the corps provost marshal, assigned them to guard a tiny village on a granite promontory connected with the shore only by a long and narrow causeway.

But, like any other tourists, they gasped as they drove along the causeway. They saw a splendid church perched atop a sheer rock with its time-worn spire rising 40 feet above the sea like a child's dream of Camelot.

Withstood 22-year Siege. Driving up to the entrance through great 13th century stone walls which once withstood a 22-year siege by the British, the four cops climbed out of their jeep and stuck up the familiar old army sign: "Off limits to all troops."

This guard group was led by tall, red-haired Sgt. Harvey Ebert, Long Beach, Calif., and included in his garrison were Corp. Paul Ritz, Mapleton, Pa.; Pfc. William J. Knopf and Pfc. Michael Manna of Philadelphia.

They strolled a few feet up the historic Grand Rue, answering the waves of friendly villagers until they came to the Hotel Poulard, where they registered.

"Clean sheets!" said the sergeant, sinking back on the first bed he had lain on since landing in France. They washed up—they couldn't take a bath because of the shortage of water on the island—and after leaving one man on guard at the gate to turn back military wayfarers they explored Mont St. Michel from basement to turret, with the help of a young French guide whose only fee was a couple of cigarettes.

They wandered from one souvenir shop to another buying lace trinkets, colorful metallic bracelets, post cards and wooden figures for the folks back home.

They climbed the long stairs into the vast cathedral church, which was begun in the 11th century, and inspected the dungeons which held state prisoners until 1866. They idled leisurely on the stone parapets, which even Henry the Fifth's hero of Agincourt couldn't subdue.

They stuffed themselves on Mont's famous gastronomic delicacy—flaming omelets—veal, fresh bread and butter, fried potatoes and dessert tarts. And in the dusk they sat like kings at ease on the terrace overlooking the sea while they puffed on cigars and sipped wine and cognac.

"If this could only go on forever," murmured Knopf.

Bright and early the next morning up drove a fifth military policeman with word that their commander wanted them to return. He had decided that Mont St. Michel needed no policing. The four transients climbed sadly into their jeep and waved wistfully to the villagers as they drove away.

"Back to the dust bowl," said Sergeant Ebert. Their furlough in paradise was over.

U. S. Marines 'Sweat Out'

Noise and Two Japs Die WITH THE THIRD MARINE DIVISION ON GUAM.—This is what the marines call "sweating it out." Corp. D. J. Tyler, St. Paul, Minn., and Pfc. T. J. Hansberry, Atlantic City, N. J., were standing night guard duty on the crest of a small hill when they heard a noise. They shouted a challenge but there was no reply.

For three solid hours the two marines stared silently into the darkness. Finally they heard the sound of a grenade being tapped against a helmet to arm it. Tyler fired toward the sound.

Terrified Boy Reports Lion Chasing Him; Right

DENVER.—Terrified and bedraggled, a 15-year-old boy, Marvin Sager, raced on his bicycle to a drug store near City Park shouting: "A lion is after me!" The druggist, at first skeptical, finally called police. Police, highway patrolmen and volunteers, armed with riot guns and tear gas, sped to the scene. And sure enough, they found a lion. He had escaped from his zoo cage and was herded back into it by the hastily assembled safari.

Thomas Brashear, Apprentice Seaman, is here to be with his mother, Mrs. Womack Brashear, who is ill in the Newton Memorial Hospital. He is stationed at Duke University. Lt. Warren H. Ves Young Wins Suit For Land on Contested Title in Court Here

Ves Young was given a verdict in a civil suit in District Court here last week over a suit brought by heirs of the late Frank Fulcher, negro involving sale of land.

The heirs brought suit through their attorney, Fred S. Dudley of Fort Worth to set aside the purchase on the charge that Fucher was not possessed of mental acumen when the transaction was made.

E. A. Camp of Rockdale and E. A. Wallace of Cameron represented Mr. Young.

Members of the jury were: Glyn Ditto, J. L. Barmore, W. C. Smith, Babe Younts, S. S. Sheppard, Ire Chambers, Roy Barmore, Allen Dodson, H. H. Hartsfield, A. L. Massengale, Frank Hertenberger and J. C. Cauthen. Mr. Barmore was excused from the jury because of the sudden death of his son, Cecil Barmore in Hearne. The remaining 11 members rendered the verdict.

To Observe Wedding Anniversary Wed.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Johnson will observe their 56th Wedding Anniversary here Wednesday, February 28th.

No elaborate observance is planned and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will spend the day quietly at their home on West Main Street and receive friends. It was hoped their children might be able to be here.

Mr. Johnson is a pioneer and for many years was associated with his brother, the late R. H. Johnson in the Jewelry business. In recent years Mr. Johnson has operated his own business here.

Miss Mary Joe Stedman, student in State University, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stedman for the week end.

Mrs. Walter Rachi of Rogers shopped in Cameron Wednesday.

Catholic Women Here Send Largest Cookie Jar to McCloskey

Catholic women in Cameron made and sent to McCloskey wounded Saturday the largest number of cookies ever received their in one consignment.

Mrs. F. C. Fahrendorf delivered 4180 cookies made by the Catholic women here. It was Catholic church week in Cameron to supply cookies.

Mrs. Fahrendorf also delivered 60 dozen white Narcissus and 16 dozen yellow Jonquils from Cameron in the cut flowers collection.

This week is Buckholts and vicinity to furnish cookies for the jars at McCloskey for wounded men. Cookies from Buckholts are to be left at J. R. Slovacek's store. Cut flowers from Buckholts are asked. The flowers should be at the Slovacek store at 1 p. m. Saturday and will be delivered by Mrs. Fahrendorf.

Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Slovacek and Mrs. Raney have charge at Buckholts this week. The Buckholts community responded magnificently in the Christmas gift drive for McCloskey and Mrs. Fahrendorf expressed her gratitude and that of the wounded men.

Don Slocomb has returned from a visit to Kansas where he accompanied his son, Casey Slocomb, Deputy United States Marshal, who delivered some Federal Prisoners to Fort Leavenworth. Mr. Slocomb enjoyed the visit and the trip. Casey Slocomb has been rewarded for his service to the government and now occupies his position of Deputy Marshal.

"Oklahoma Raiders" Stars Tex Ritter

Clearing up of the mystery involving the disappearance of wild mustang herds, contracted for delivery to the United States Army as cavalry remounts, constitutes the plot of Universal's exciting story, "Oklahoma Raiders," coming Friday and Saturday to the screen of the Milam Theatre.

Tex Ritter stars in the film as a young U. S. Army lieutenant detailed to disguise himself as cowboy and solve the disappearance of the mustangs, sorely needed by the Union forces at that time. Fuzzy Knight, as Ritter's pal, goes along to register his most expressive comedy role to date.

How women and girls
may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:
1 Taken like a tonic,
it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2 Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.
Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 4.

The Golden Text is: "There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots" (Isaiah 11:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man."

Dreams Broken in Love Affair for Man and WomanAmazing Tragedy Revealed
In Letter Produced in English Court.

LIECESTER, ENG.—"If I have broken your dreams, mine are broken, too," was a dramatic phrase in the letter written by a woman to a man alleged to have stabbed her to death.

The letter was read in court at Leicester when William A. Cowle, 31, was charged with the murder of Miss Nora Payne, 32.

The prosecuting attorney said Cowle was alleged to have stabbed the woman in a street, and said he then gave himself up to police.

He said that a letter, alleged to have been received by Miss Payne from Cowle, read:

"I do love you, darling. Dearest Nora, just a few lines to let you know I have arrived back safely. Darling, I did enjoy being with you again, even if you were in a bad frame of mind. . . I hope you will try to fix it so that I may see you for a couple of days. All my love to you. Cheerio. I remain, your loving sweetheart."

A letter from the woman to the man, he said, might provide the motive for the crime. It read:

She Couldn't Stand It.

"Dear Bill—I am glad to say I am sleeping better now. I had some sleeping tablets. But I can't stand against all the problems that seem suddenly to have come into being. I shall have a breakdown. The only way is to face them, and that means being cruel to you."

"I only like you as a friend, but you will not take my word as final, and you think that you can make me love you and persuade me to do a thing which my conscience says is wrong."

"I appreciate your kindness to me during the last three years, but I really feel that the strain is too much. I know it is a mean way to tell you on paper, but I have tried so many times to tell you in person, but you won't accept that. My nature is not to hurt people."

"I have the right to mix and meet with other men before I decide whom I shall marry. I want it to be for life, and not an unhappy union that will end in divorce. I know your impulse will be to come at the weekend, but don't come, as I shall be out. I have told my mother I won't see you if you come. You must see what I say is right. I have received an invitation to go to London for Whitsun, and I am taking it. It will be a break, and maybe it will ease my mind. For my week's holiday I am going into the country for a rest."

Both Dreams Broken.

"This may be a shock to you, but you must know we cannot go on as we have been doing. Be a man and take it the right way, and don't think badly of me. If I have broken your dreams, mine are broken, too."

"I will continue to write to you if you wish it. I shall be interested to hear of your work, and that you still like me. Take care of yourself. I still like you. Don't keep this trouble to yourself, confide in some one. Don't brood; sooner try to hate me. Before I close, I thank you for all you have done for me. It is not my fault that fate plans life differently."

"Don't come to Leicester. I shall be cross; more than that, I shall not see you. I don't know how to end. I have never written a letter like this before. I hope I never will again. It is against my nature. I will wish you good health, and place you in the safe keeping of our Heavenly Father."

What's in Name? Enough

Is Enough for This Judge

SAN FRANCISCO. — Mr. Tharnmidsbe Lurgy Praghustspndgicem is going to have to struggle along as just that because Superior Court Judge Thomas M. Foley has denied his plea to have his name changed.

Mr. P., a believer in good omen words, was originally just plain Edward L. Hayes, but wanted to become Mr. Mismwaldprnghustfscet Balstemdrigneshoiwintpluasjof Wradvaistplondqueskycrufemglsh.

Each letter of the alphabet has a meaning to Tharnmidsbe, formerly employed by the Moore Drydock company, Oakland.

The name Edward L. Hayes, he explained, had no future, so he became T. L. Praghust (etc.) but he told the court that name didn't bring quite the good fortune he anticipated.

That's why Mr. Praghustspndgicem wanted to become Mr. Wradvaistplondqueskycrufemglsh. More future.

His Kisses Sizzle so

She Asks Firemen's Aid

CHICAGO. — Herbert Clark was sitting in a tavern with Miss Margaret Mayhood, 41, recently, when he turned and gave her a sizzling kiss. She heaved a big sigh and then dashed for a fire alarm box and pulled the lever.

Herbert fled, but Margaret was standing in the middle of the street when 15 pieces of fire equipment screeched to a halt. "I know I was wrong," she said, "but I got so excited. . . ."

Police booked her on a disorderly conduct charge.

ROOSEVELT BACK IN CAPITAL TO REPORT

President Roosevelt arrived in Washington Wednesday on his return from the Conference at Yalta after a number of important stop conferences enroute.

One of the first acts of the President was to sign the bill by Senator George of Georgia, stripping the Commerce Department of lending authority. This was regarded as a preliminary to confirmation of the nomination of Henry A. Wallace as Secretary of Commerce.

Thursday the President will go before congress in person to make a report on the decisions reached at Yalta proposing Peace settlements after the war.

National 4-H Club
Week March 3-11

Texas will have 103,000 boys and girls among the 1,700,000 observing National 4-H Club Week March 3-11, the A & M College Extension Service announced today.

Reports from the nation as a whole show the membership has something to celebrate: 400,000 acres of Victory gardens, 47 million quarts of food canned, and two million head of livestock and dairy cattle produced for war-time use.

In addition, club members have purchased or sold to others 140 million dollars worth of war bonds and stamps and collected 300 million pounds of scrap. Texas club members have done their proportionate share of this war work, and state figures are to be announced soon in connection with the national observance.

America Has its Portrait Painted

Dan Mascon's cousin, an honest-to-goodness artist, came to our town. And when he heard we were having a weenie roast, he asked could he come and bring his paints.

After he got through working on his canvas ... he had as nice a picture of us enjoying ourselves as you could ask for ... complete to the last little detail ... from Molly Burtle's dimples to the foam on Ed Carey's glass of beer.

"I'm calling it a portrait of America," Dan's cousin says.

And from where I sit, he couldn't have a better title. Whether it's a weenie roast in our town or a square dance on a Wisconsin farm, it's all a part of America—a part of our neighborliness, our love of fun and pleasant living.

Because our right to enjoy a temperate beverage like beer is a part of our American heritage of personal freedom.

"Ministry of Fear" Stars Ray Milland

Paramount's "Ministry of Fear" which opens Thursday at the Cameron Theatre adds another feather to Ray Milland's cap. The dynamic screen drama, adapted from Graham Greene's stirring novel, offers Milland a role which fits him like a glove.

Under the delicate direction of Fritz Lang, "Ministry of Fear" creates a heavy mood of suspense at the very start with each additional scene developing a sense of intrigue and mystery. A psychological drama describing a man's fear of unseen enemies, this fine motion picture features Marjorie Reynolds, Carl Esmond, Hillary Brooke and Percy Warram in supporting parts. Seton I. Miller's screenplay is both sensitive and sympathetic and gives the cast a wide range for a display of their versatility.

The crux of the plot concerns a harmless looking cake, offered as a prize at a charity fair, which really contains a map German agents are after. The map falls into Ray's hands quite by accident and he becomes a target for attack by subversive organizations, Scotland Yard and others, all of the action taking place in England. Ray finds he cannot trust a single one of his acquaintances and plays a lone hand in a game of trickery, master-minding and romance since two lovely ladies, the Misses Brooke and Reynolds, claim his attentions.

In a dramatic windup, Ray aids Scotland Yard to recover the important map the enemy agents are rounded up and the odd circumstances and events are unraveled. Not until the final moment, however, is the audience aware of what will take place next. "Ministry of Fear" is being regarded already as the finest film in which Milland's appeared and his long string of successes is a notable one.

Vets May Have Free Schooling

U. S. to Pay for Those Who Want an Education; All Ranks Included.

WASHINGTON.—The government will pay for at least a year's schooling for almost any veteran of this war, man or woman, commissioned officer or buck private. All ranks are included.

They get paid while they're going to school and some of them can get as much as four years' education at Uncle Sam's expense. To get that much, however, they must have served at least three years in the armed forces.

The requirements are simple: A veteran must have had at least 90 days military service since September 16, 1940, and been honorably discharged. If discharged because of service-incurred disability before serving 90 days, he is credited with 90.

The government pays school expenses up to $500. They include tuition, library, infirmary, laboratory and similar customary fees, books, supplies and other necessary expenses. The government does not pay for board, lodging or other living expenses.

But the government does pay the student veteran $50 a month if he has no dependents and $75 a month if he has dependents.

A veteran must apply for these education benefits within two years after his military discharge, or within two years after the war's end, whichever is later. Here are two extreme examples:

Choice of Schools.
A veteran discharged three months after September 16, 1940, still has until two years after the war's end to apply; a man held in service a year after war's end would have two years after his discharge—or three years after the war—to apply.

A veteran can go to any one of the following types of schools that has state approval as an educational institution; public or private, elementary, secondary and other schools furnishing education for adults, business schools and colleges, scientific and technical school, colleges and vocational schools, including industrial establishments.

There are really three programs wrapped up in this general educational program:

There is a part-time program for employed veterans who still want some schooling. They can take this until they have rounded out the equivalent of a full year's schooling. Any employed veteran, regardless of age, can take this program. But the rate of pay to such veterans has not yet been determined.

Then there is a refresher or re-training course. It is limited strictly to one year. But any veteran can take it, regardless of age or previous schooling. All he has to do is prove he served 90 days or was discharged before that time for service-incurred disability.

Can Get Four Years.
And finally there is the program which gives a veteran at least one year's schooling and provides up to four years. This program works as follows:

If a veteran was under 25 years of age when he entered the service, it is taken for granted that his education was interrupted. He gets one year's schooling, automatically. He can get up to four, depending upon the length of his military service and upon his doing the school work satisfactorily.

If a veteran was over 25 when he entered the service, he must show that his schooling was interrupted by the war. He gets one year and up to four, depending upon his length of service and satisfactory school work.

Any veteran wishing further details about the program—or about where he fits into it—should write to the nearest regional office of the Veterans' administration. There are 53 such offices.

This should be remembered: Time spent in an army or navy special college training program does not count as part of the required 90 days of active service.

Japs in Paris Allowed Freedom of the Capital

PARIS.—Although France is at war with Japan, some 40 Japanese residents of Paris still are circulating freely in this city swarming with Allied troops. While the Japanese are subject to arrest as enemy aliens, the French war ministry said, no action has been taken thus far because of "administrative delays." The unofficial opinion is that they are being permitted freedom in informal reciprocity for the liberty granted thousands of French citizens in Japanese-occupied Indo-China.

Plane Rocket Problems Are Solved by Professor

LONDON.—Two of the major problems—ballistics and sighting—which threatened to delay installation of rockets in Allied fighter planes, were solved by Carl David Anderson, professor of physics at the California Institute of Technology, it has been disclosed. The Nobel prize winner was flown to the European theater when the difficulties developed, worked out the problems and has returned to the United States.

U S FIRST ARMY IN 13 MILES COLOGNE

The U. S. First Army commanded by General Courtney Hodges is within 13 miles of Cologne Monday and already the city can be seen and is under heavy artillery fire.

The U. S. Ninth Army commanded by General Simpson is within 20 miles of Dueseldorf.

The U. S. Third Army commanded by General George Patton was completing encirclement of Trier, bastion of the Siegfried line.

This was the picture of the great Allied offensive on the Western Front.

The Red Army was within 51 miles of the Baltic in the cut through south of East Prussia while the Armies of Marshal Konev and Marshal Zhukov were poised for what news commentators said will be the most powerful attack ever launched to reach the German capital.

Tokyo was still burning from giant American bombing raids Sunday. The Japs complained that some of the bombs fell near the Imperial Palace. That was calculated to worry the Marines now completing capture of the last of three big air fields on Iwo Jima.

The Germans were hastily drawing up some ten divisions of troops to stem the Allied advance which General Eisenhower has said will soon join forces with the Russians in central Germany.

Berlin was pounded in the heaviest raid of the war. Some 12 hundred American bombers with fighter escort were over the German capital in the attack. Increasing disorder in Berlin where some 5 million Germans are caught, were giving the Nazi leaders their worst problem of the war.

Right Temperature

Cold enough is the aim of a refrigerator but don't overdo it. Set the control to the right point. Except for the freezing compartment you won't need any place in the refrigerator to be colder than 40 deg. F. On the other hand, no place should be higher than 50 deg. If in doubt about the temperature, check it with a reliable thermometer about one hour after the door has been closed.

To do their job best, some ice refrigerators need to be re-iced often enough to keep the cabinet filled almost to capacity. Others of the newer type hold their cold until the ice is almost gone. In any case, don't cover the ice to save it and risk losing good food.

BIG DELICIOUS 8-SERVING MEAT LOAF—ONLY 5 POINTS!

When it comes right down to it, the one great standby point "stretcher" is a big, tender, tasty meat loaf. And this Oatmeal meat loaf shrinks less in cooking than other types of meat, too.

That's why it is particularly timely to find a recipe that not only makes red points go farther but is unusually delicious and nutritious.

This meat loaf uses only 1½ pounds of meat—5 red points as we go to press—yet it yields 8 generous servings!

It is unusually nutritious because the "stretcher" is oatmeal, richest of all the cereals in the main element of meat, Protein. So, by using oatmeal, you actually reinforce the family's supply of this element so vital for normal growth and stamina.

That's a comforting thought—but the main reason you'll like this loaf is because it is so good. The nut-like whole-grain flavor adds a lot to the taste, and the oatmeal helps make a loaf of good, firm texture. And it's so easy to use rolled oats right from the package.

Use the basic recipe, or your family may like one of the variations suggested below.

BASIC MEAT LOAF RECIPE

(8 servings)

1½ pounds ground beef chuck	2¼ teaspoons salt
¼ pound ground pork	¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup onion, cut fine	1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 cup rolled oats (quick or regular type, uncooked)	1 beaten egg
	1 cup milk or water

METHOD: Combine all ingredients thoroughly and pack firmly into a loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 1 hour.

VARIATIONS: All beef may be used. Add another ¼ cup onion and ¼ cup coarsely chopped green pepper; or ¼ cup catsup; or 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce; or a dash of poultry seasoning, thyme, savory or sage

URUGUAY JOINS WAR ON THE AXIS POWERS

Turkey has declared war on Germany and Japan, said a radio broadcast from London early Friday. The effective date of the declaration is March 1.

The Turkish Parliament was said to have made the decision to wage war on the Axis at a secret session early Friday.

Uruguay, tiny South American Republic, joined in the war on Germany and Japan by a declaration Friday.

Turkey, long supporting a Mediterranean alliance with Britain was urged to enter the war as early as 1943. Her declaration may be taken as proof of the coming downfall of Germany and Japan.

Marines on Iwo Jima have resumed their offensive. The American flag was raised over Mt. Suribachi. Many of the Japs were diving to their death from summits over the water. Marine casualties have risen to 5272.

Berlin said the Allied offensive on the Western front is under way. General Patton's army was in 4 miles of Trier.

Calvert Man Awarded 2nd Oak Leaf Cluster

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England—Tech Sgt. James A. Wilkinson, Jr., 20 of Calvert, engineer and top turret gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, has been awarded the second Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal, at this Eighth Air Force station.

The award was for "meritorious achievement" during bombing attacks on Nazi war industries and military targets in co-operation with Allied ground forces.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilkerson of Rt. 2, Calvert, and was employed with the Texas Highway Department before entering the AAF.

Family of 8 Lose Home and Contents; People Moved by Loss

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cotton lost their home and all its contents at 10:30 a. m. Friday when fire of undetermined origin quickly spread beyond control.

The Cameron Fire Department responded but could not save the home, located in north Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton are the parents of 6 children, all small. This family of 8 lost all their clothing and home furnishings.

Firemen, moved by the loss to the parents and their little children made up $61.98 on the spot and citizens generally were moved by the appeal. Bert Nicholson, fireman, whose response has been most generous on other occasions when need called, brought the money to The Herald. All who wish to contribute may bring money to The Herald.

Bob Terry, groceryman, said he was taking a collection at his store.

Again our Firemen have demonstrated that they are always willing to do more than their share. It was not enough that they should try to save the home but in addition they dug deep into their pockets to help the family. How much more is it our duty to respond generously because of this example set by our fire boys?

Apparently the family lost their ration books. In the collection brought in by Mr. Nicholson were 4 Red Points.

No appeal could be stronger. This family of 8, without a home, clothing or food, look to their neighbors. They have asked nothing and if The Herald knows the hearts of the people in Cameron the plight of this family will not go unheeded, and generously too!

Mrs. Caroline Zak of Bryan is ill in Newton Memorial Hospital.

Mary Alice Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson is in Newton Memorial Hospital.

BIG EVENTS PORTEND ON THE WESTERN FRONT

A news blackout on the Western Front Wednesday indicated sensational developments might be in the making as three of the United States Armies now converging on Germany from the West were prepared to launch an all out offensive.

Steady advances in the past week have brought our forces to a break through and to threaten the valley of the Rhine river.

The Red army has reached the Baltic.

Berlin was given another pasting by Allied bombers. The First army is within 8 miles of Cologne. The Third army has about completed the encirclement of Trier.

The Japs have been pushed back into a small pocket on Iwo and their water and ammunition supply is failing.

THE CRUSADE FOR CHRIST

The Methodist Church is now in the midst of a campaign to raise $25,000,000 for the relief and reconstruction of the church's mission territory. Twenty of the Methodist Church's mission fields have been in the midst of the war-torn areas.

This is the greatest opportunity that the church has been called upon to do a needy and a real constructive work for the uplift of stricken humanity. Churches, schools, colleges and hospitals must be repaired and rebuilt and food and clothing must be supplied to much of this territory.

The pastor of the local Methodist Church is calling upon his people to assist in raising the quota assigned to the Cameron Methodist Church. The amount assigned this church for their goal or quota is $3,450.

The Board of Stewards is sponsoring the raising of the worthy funds. The workers have been given teams and assignments. They will meet in the church Friday evening for making of reports of their work. A. J. Smith is the chairman and he and two assistants, E. A. Perrin and Ben Reichert had charge of the morning service last Sunday.

It is the opinion of these leaders in the local Methodist Church, that they cannot afford to fall short of the worthy task assigned to them. The preachers and workers for the Bryan District will meet at Marlin, Monday, March 5, to make report for the district. Rev. Stewart Clendenin is the district superintendent. All the churches of the district have pledged their best efforts for this cause. K. R. Isbell, pastor.

Let's all refresh... Have a Coca-Cola

...or being friendly along the way

The spirit of camaraderie of the open road is summed up in the three words Have a Coke. At stops, everyone steps up to the familiar red cooler for the friendly refreshment of ice-cold Coca-Cola. America's streets and highways are dotted with such places that invite you to pause and refresh with a Coke. Wherever you go, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—a symbol of friendly refreshment.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., Cameron, Texas

You naturally hear Coca-Cola called by its friendly abbreviation "Coke". Both mean the quality product of The Coca-Cola Company.
